

Prof.Dr. Cüneyt Türkmen, M.D.

Nuclear Medicine

Istanbul Florence Nightingale Hospital

Following his graduation from Dokuz Eylül University, Faculty of Medicine in 1992, Prof.Dr. Cüneyt Türkmen completed his residency in Nuclear Medicine at Istanbul University, Cerrahpasa Medical Faculty, Department of Nuclear Medicine in 2002.

GROUP

FLORENCE NIGHTINGALE
HOSPITALS

Prof Dr Cüneyt Turkmen who started to work as a Nuclear Medicine specialist at the Department of Nuclear Medicine in İstanbul University, İstanbul School of Medicine in 2002 has assigned as "Fellowship of the European Board of Nuclear Medicine" and Associate Professor, and Professor in 2014.

Prof. Dr. Cüneyt Türkmen who is still working at İstanbul University, İstanbul Medical Faculty, Department of Nuclear Medicine and Group Florence Nightingale is interested in Nuclear Oncology and radionuclide therapy and has 72 research articles published in 56 international peer-reviewed journals, 124 proceedings including 58 international congresses and authorship of 11 book chapters.

He has participated in several national and international congresses as a member of organization committee, scientific board member and speaker.

Fields of Interest:

- Molecular Imaging (PET-CT, PET-MRI, SPECT-CT)
- Liver Cancer, Radioembolization
- Targeted Radionuclide Treatment of
- Neuroendocrine Tumors
- Targeted Radionuclide Treatment of Prostate Cancer
- Targeted Radionuclide Treatment of Thyroid Cancers